

Biography of Emer Nowlan

Emer is the great granddaughter of Arthur Griffith and Maud Griffith (nee Sheehan). She grew up in Dublin in the 1970s and 80s and then lived, studied and worked abroad for nearly 20 years, including in England and Portugal. Emer returned to Ireland in 2005. Originally a post-primary teacher, Emer holds a Masters and a PhD in education and is currently CEO of Educate Together, the representative body for Ireland's growing network of equality-based schools.
